

People & Places

NONPROFIT

Hartt

Trey Hartt is the development and program coordinator at the Virginia Center for Inclusive Communities, an organization that promotes diversity, for all age groups, across Virginia. In his role, he plans, organizes and manages events and campaigns connected to the organization's fund development and program efforts. He has a background in arts administration, grass-roots organizing and using art as a tool for social change. He earned his bachelor's degree in theater performance from Virginia Commonwealth University.